About CCMA:

The India Construction Chemicals and services market is estimated at 3.30 billion USD in 2024, and is expected to reach 5.02 billion USD by 2030, growing at a CAGR of 7.24% during the forecast period (2024-2030). This growth is propelled by increased demand driven by substantial government investments in infrastructure and construction.

The construction chemical industry in India currently encompasses both organized and unorganized sectors. Leading manufacturers have collaborated to establish the Construction Chemicals Manufacturers' Association. The association's primary objective is to foster industry best practices, set quality standards, and promote innovation while actively advocating for the interests of the construction chemical sector with governmental and regulatory bodies.
